FORGED BANK NOTESRobert B. Taylor of New York Is Arrested in a St. Louis Saloon.

BRINGS $6,500 TO THE CITY.

Unsigned Currency Disappeared
From Gotham Institution
Last Fall—Prisoner Displays His Cash.

Robert B. Taylor, who is said to have been an employee of the Central National Bank of New York for thirty years, is a prisoner of the United States Secret Service operatives in St. Louis on the charge of passing forged national bank notes of the institution in which he was a clerk.

Taylor, it is said, has passed $2,000 of the forged notes in St. Louis in the last two days, and when arrested at Third and Olive streets at noon yesterday $3,500 in the alleged forged currency was found on his person, the Secret Service men declare.

The arrest was made by Patrolman Thomas McCormack of the Central Police District, whose attention was called to the fact that Taylor was showing $20 bills in a bold manner in saloons near the intersection of Third and Olive streets. The prisoner was turned over to Lawrence Richey, Assistant Secret Service Operative, and last night he was operated by John E. Murphy, Secret Service Operative, in the Federal building.

Last fall about $6,500 in unsigned bank notes disappeared from the Central National Bank of New York.

The records show, it is said, that the notes were delivered from the Treasury Department at Washington to the bank by the United States Express Company, that Taylor received for the notes, and that he turned them over to another clerk who put them in his care. These statements are confirmed, it is said, by Taylor.

himself. He says, however, it is stated, that after the notes had passed out of his hands he found them in the bank and, not knowing what they were, took them. He came to St. Louis with them and in the last two days it is charged that he has disposed of $2,000 of the currency.

WRONG NAME GIVES CLUE.

The discovery that the notes were forged was brought about by the fact that the name, F. E. Taylor, signed as that of the president, is not in the records of the Central National Bank. Moreover, the name signed in the blank for the cashier's signature is not legible. The two $20 bills and one $10 bill are not signed.

The fact that the wrong name was signed to the notes was ascertained at the Lafayette Bank, which is a correspondent of the Central National of New York.

Taylor told the Federal authorities that he does not know who signed the notes.

When Taylor was arrested he gave his right name to the police, but in his pocket were found two bank books issued by St. Louis institutions in the name of Alfred Plimpton.

The arrest of Taylor was due solely to his bold display of money. Within two hours yesterday morning he gave or attempted to give six $20 notes for cigars and drinks, it is said.

Twice he passed a $20 bill at the saloon of C. W. Williams, at No. 220 Olive street, and four times, within an hour, it is said, he attempted to pass $20 notes in the saloon of Charles F. Quinn, at No. 218 Olive street. In the saloon of J. E. Altman & Co., No. 202 Olive street, he was placed under arrest by Patrolman Thomas McCormack.

After Taylor had shown a $20 bill four times in Quinn's saloon, the proprietor became suspicious and, with David Francis, Jr., notified Patrolman McCormack.

Patrolman McCormack followed Taylor into Altman's saloon and took his station near a wall where Taylor had set down on the floor. When he came for his valise the policeman arrested him.

NOT DISTURBED AT ARREST.

Taylor took the arrest calmly, not even asking the patrolman the charge against him or where he was going. Patrolman McCormack led his prisoner to the Chestnut Street Police Station, where he was searched.

In the valise the police found, they claim, $67.55 in currency and coin. Some of the coin was in packages similar to those put up at a bank. In his clothing the police found, it is asserted, more than $4,000. Ten and twenty dollar bills were thrust into every conceivable part of his clothing. In every pocket was jammed a roll of bills, seemingly without care. In his hip pocket was a large sum.

Besides money, the police found on his person a bank book issued by the German Savings Institution, which showed that Taylor deposited $67.55 there yesterday under the name of Alfred Plimpton. The owner of the savings institution, it is said, CARDINAL SATOLLI AT JERUSALEM.

The prelate and party on the steps of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre. To the Cardinal's right is Count Ribeiro of the Portuguese Court; to his left is Audi, the Syrian guide.

told the Federal authorities that Plimpton had said that he owned a bakery on the World's Fair grounds.

In his pocket, the police say, they also found a bank book issued by the Olive Street Bank, showing that Taylor had made deposits there for $10 and $15 under the name of Plimpton. The police also found a money order for $10. They also found a railroad pass in the name of Taylor.

TWO HOURS COUNTING MONEY.

Two hours were spent by the Sergeant at the Chestnut Street Station in counting the money, which amounted to $3,500.22, of this amount $200 was in currency, at least half being in $20 and $10 notes.

When arrested Taylor said he was a real estate man in business at No. 220 Broadway, New York. He said that he was staying at the Hotel Jefferson, but at the hotel it was stated that neither Robert B. Taylor nor Alfred Plimpton was a guest there.

After the money had been counted, Taylor was taken to the Four Courts and later to the Federal building, where he was "sweetened" by Secret Service Agent Murphy.

Taylor is of medium height and weight, has a gray mustache and gray hair. He is 45 years old and was born in Ireland. It is said that Taylor has a son who is an employee in the bank.

The Federal authorities said last night that the police had made a mistake of about $100 too much in counting the money.

Slayer of Woman Says He Does Not Regret His Act.

Thomas Henderson Kerr, the husband of the woman who was killed on the sidewalk in front of No. 270 Locust street yesterday morning, will arrive in St. Louis this evening.

He learned of the death of his wife from dispatches from St. Louis, which appeared in the Pittsburgh papers. He is a member of the Pittsburgh Fire Department. He married the daughter of Mrs. Bertha Lyons of Louisville, Ky., on June 8, 1888, and lived with his wife at No. 230 Locust street for three years.

Mrs. Kerr left for St. Louis on April 15 with the understanding that she would return in the fall. A correspondence was carried on and Kerr did not know that his wife had married again.

The Reverend Father Neville of Dayton came as a special representative to extend the invitation to his Eminence.

The Cardinal spent yesterday in resting, except a few hours, which he put in at the Jerusalem exhibit at the Fair. He was received by the natives, with a great demonstration, bedecked in all their Oriental splendor.

The Cardinal was met in the court by Manager Miles and the officers of the Jerusalem Company, who provided him with a special escort through the city.

As he entered the quadrangle of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, an Arabian girl on her native instrument began to play "The Holy City." So impressed was the Cardinal that he stopped and removed his hat, as did the other members of the party.

On leaving the church, the Cardinal, standing on the steps leading to the main chapel of the church, allowed his photograph to be taken. In the meantime, two party, had borrowed a camel and were being ridden through the streets of the city. After their visit in Jerusalem, the Cardinal and his party were immediately driven back to the city.

KAW BREAKS
YEAR'S RECORDRiver at Kansas City Is Higher Than at Any Time Since the Flood of 1903.

THE MISSOURI ALSO IS RISING.

Weather Forecaster Predicts a Higher Stage, and Residents of the Lowlands Are Deserting Their Homes.

Kansas City, July 6.—The Kaw River is higher at this place to-day than it has been since the great flood of last year, and it is still rising rapidly.

Weather Forecaster Conner says the Kaw will continue to rise to-night and to-morrow, reaching a stage at least two and one-half feet higher than the present reading.

Many residents of the lowlands of Armourdale, Argentine and Rosedale are leaving their homes to-night, and the packing-houses and other large concerns are moving goods from their basements. Back water from the river is coming up through the sewers in Armourdale, flooding the streets and interrupting street-car service.

Topeka, Lawrence and other points west of here report that the Kaw is still rising rapidly to-night. The Smoky Hill and Republican rivers are also rising.

The rainfall in Kansas to-day was not heavy, and the present rise of the river is due to the almost incessant rains of the last week.

The Missouri River is steadily rising here.

HOTEL AND RESTAURANT
NEAR FAIR GROUNDS BURN.Twelve Persons Who Were in the Building at the Time of the Blaze Escape.

Fire totally destroyed, last night at 8:30 o'clock, the two frame buildings, which were situated near the north fence of the World's Fair grounds, and close to the convention entrance, one of which was a rooming-house known as the Employees' Hotel, owned by E. H. Carson, and the other a restaurant owned by Harry Davis. The buildings adjoined. Nothing could be done to save them after the fire was once started, as there was no water available with which to fight the flames.

The total loss is estimated at $200. The fire started in the Employees' Hotel. None of the furniture in this building was saved. Twelve persons were in the building at the time of the fire, but all escaped.

The owners of the restaurant, knowing that the fire would spread from the hotel to their building, carried out their furniture.

Accompanied by Monsignor Dennis O'Connell and his private secretaries, His Eminence Francis Cardinal Satolli will depart on a Vandalia special train, provided by John H. Patterson of the National Cash Register Company, at 9:15 o'clock this morning for Cincinnati and Dayton, O.

PULLED FROM UNDER WHEELS.

G. H. Hermen Knocked From His Seat on Wagon by Street Car.

G. H. Hermen of No. 2084 Caroline street, after being run over by the front wheels of an oil wagon at 7 o'clock last night, was pulled from under the moving wagon before the rear wheels struck him, by S. Baumer of No. 213 North Thirtieth street. He was but slightly injured.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Ninth street and Washington avenue. The oil wagon, which Hermen was driving, was struck by an eastbound car. The wagon tipped to one side and the driver fell under the wheels. The horses started to run and pulled the front wheels over Hermen's legs.

ASK FOR A SPECIAL JURY.

Sixty Men Summoned for Cases of Denny and Hannigan.

Special juries have been asked for in the cases of Jerry J. Hannigan and Charles J. Denny, charged with accepting a bribe.

When these cases come to trial, it is thought that one of the defendants will enter a plea of guilty, the recent action of the Supreme Court having taken the life out of the opposition to the boodie crusade.

The cases will be tried in Judge Taylor's division of the Circuit Court next Monday.

RUSSIANS BEATEN IN BAYONET STRUGGLE AT MOTIEN PASS.

London, July 7.—The Liao-Yang correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, in a dispatch, dated July 7, at 1 a. m., says:

"A battle is proceeding twenty-five miles from here.

"Numbers of wounded are being brought in from the mountains.

"Evidently the engagement is a severe one.

"It is believed that the Japanese are continuing their advance, with the object of cutting off Mukden."

Tien-Tsin, July 6.—Advices have been received that at 5 p. m. on last Sunday four Japanese destroyers made a determined attempt to enter Port Arthur and attack the Russian fleet.

The destroyers were discovered by the shore batteries. One of the destroyers was sunk under Golden Hill, another under shore battery No. 2 and a third one had its funnel shot away. The fourth one succeeded in escaping to a port.

The reckless bravery of the Japanese in going to almost certain destruction excites nothing but admiration. The channel at Port Arthur is so tortuous and strewn with wrecks without that evidently it was regarded as unnecessary to use a boom.

On account of the difficulty of getting into the harbor, the feat is considered fully as daring as that of the Japanese at Wei-Hai-Wei, where Japanese torpedo-boats in a storm and covered with ice were jumped over the booms protecting that harbor, and destroyed Chinese warships.

On last Saturday, it is reported, that fifty Japanese ships were captured at a place the name of which is not given.

Trains are reported to be running both in and out of Port Arthur for a distance of sixteen miles.

The Russian torpedo-boat destroyer Lieutenant Burukoff, which successfully ran the blockade at Port Arthur and reached Ningwang June 29, with advice for St.
Petersburg from the beleaguered fortress, has returned safely to Port Arthur.

The British gunboat Eskdale arrived at Ningwang last Tuesday.

It is reported that many Cossacks, while marching through the Tang-Chi gorge, were drowned by floods.

(Editor's Note: It was announced from Tokyo July 5 that a battle report from Admiral Togo showed a decisive and successful torpedo attack at the entrance of Port Arthur during the night of June 29, in which a Russian guard-ship and a Russian torpedo-boat destroyer were sunk.)

FIGHT WITH HAYONETS.

General Kuraki's Headquarters in the St. Petersburg, July 6.—The military critics generally take the view that serious military operations in Southern Manchuria are over until the rainy season has ended, and that in the meantime the Japanese will devote themselves to the siege of Port Arthur.

An imperial ukase has been issued calling 447,000 recruits to the colors this year.
This on account of the war, is double the usual number.

All the remaining naval reservists in the governments of European Russia, with the exception of Orenburg and Finland, have been called out by an imperial ukase. These are intended to make up in full complement of the reserves at the Baltic naval ports.

The naval reservists in some of the Don districts have also been called out and ordered to Sebastopol.

SHOWERS STILL THREATEN.

Forecaster Predicts Cooler
Weather for St. Louis To-Day.

Indications point to a continuance of the unsettled and showery weather in St.
Louis and its vicinity to-day. There is some hope, however, according to the official forecast, that the high temperature may be reduced.

In New England and in the lake districts yesterday the weather was cooler, and in the States west of the Rocky Mountains there has been a noticeable rise in the thermometer. It is also warmer in the Canadian Northwest.

There have been heavy rainfalls in Missouri, Kansas and parts of Illinois yesterday, while Wichita and Kansas City were deluged.

BRITISH TAKE
THIBETAN FORT.Handful of Men Drive 7,000 Natives From Commanding Position.

Gyantse, Thibet, July 6.—The pinnacle fort of Gyantse held by 7,000 Tibetans was captured by a mere handful of British and Indian soldiers to-day.

The excitement of the long day culminated in the scaling of a breach in the walls of Gyantse by Lieutenant Grant, who was followed by a mixed company of Gurkhas and fusiliers.

They climbed the cliffs, and the rock in the face of a half of fire and a fusillade of stones, which were hurled on their heads by the frantic Tibetans.

A stone struck Lieutenant Grant, sweeping him off his feet; but he recovered himself and was the first over the breach.
Long is on a rugged rock, 300 feet in height.

At dusk the battle was done, and though fierce bursts of musketry were still to be heard, the British held the fort, which dominates the town and the monastery beyond.

The plan of attack included three columns, which were to rush the villages fringing the base of the rock. At midnight last night British troops began to move into position.

The left and center columns were able to enter the village by sunrise, but so heavy was the fire directed on the right column that it was impossible to make any headway for several hours. By 7 o'clock, however, the whole fringe of villages was captured.

Lieutenant Gordon, who was leading a party of Sikhs, was killed.

Households were full of Tibetans, who pelted the right column with bullets for hours.

The British ten-pounders made a breach in the wall between the two towers on the face of the cliff, the wall falling down in short succession.

Shortly afterwards an explosion occurred. The Tibetans opened a heavy fire, but only one man was hit, owing to the formation of the British troops.

By dusk the helmets of fusiliers and Gurkhas were to be seen on the highest building of the fort. The men were cheering.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Jefferson City, Mo., July 6.—Justice Gavon D. Burgess of the Missouri Supreme Court suffered a stroke of paralysis early this morning at his home in the eastern part of the city, and, while resting easily to-night, is yet in a serious condition.

Judge Burgess was taken ill Tuesday night and a physician summoned. He was feverish and sick at his stomach during the night and early in the morning suffered the paralytic stroke.

He has been conscious since his afflic-tion, but talks with difficulty, and in conversation forgets many of the commonest words.

Judge Burgess has been noted as one of the hardest working jurists of the country, and seldom takes a vacation from his work. He is now serving his second term on the bench, having been elected in 1898 and 1902. He was born in Kentucky, on November 1853, and has been engaged in the legal profession in Missouri for fifty years. He is married, but has no children.

It cannot be determined at this time how serious his illness may be. Even if he should recover sufficiently to resume his work on the Supreme bench, it is likely that he will first be compelled to take a long rest. Unless he should suffer another stroke, it is not presumed that his illness will result fatally, but may incapacitate him from further work.

James D. Housman, general manager of the St. Louis, St. Charles and Western Railroad, which runs from the terminus of the Eastern avenue division of the St.

Mo., announced yesterday that he had resigned.

Mr. Housman gave no reason for his action, except that his business with the Suburban Telephone Company and other enterprises, with which he is connected, needed his immediate attention. Mr.
Housman announced that J. B. Lucas had also disposed of his stock in the company.

CAMERAS BARRED
IN INDIAN VILLAGENo More Pictures of Savage Tribes Can Be Taken Without Special Permit.

Hereafter photographers will not be permitted to photograph the savage tribes of peoples at the World's Fair without a special written order from Doctor WJ Mc-Gee, chief of the Anthropology Department of the Exposition.

Notice to this effect was served on all the attendants of the primitive folk now camped at the World's Fair.

The reason given for the new order is a breach of faith on the part of the photographers in failing to remember the people who posed for them with a British likeness of themselves.

The Indians, especially, are getting cross. They have lost their patience, and also their confidence in the white race.
They have been shaken by the repeatedly broken promises of the photographers. They resent to be "lied" further. They resented their grievances to the heads of the department in charge of them. They asked for protection from the kodak flickers.

Repeatedly, and on hot afternoons, they have been persecuted by enthusiastic photographers to do their glad work and pose for a picture on the Indian premise of a photograph of themselves in return.
With no single exception, have they resisted.

"The frequency of these broken promises," said a World's Fair official, "had led to a certain distrust among the Indians of the whole white race. It is establishing a bad precedent, and the practice cannot be permitted to continue.

After this no one except those presenting credentials of honesty will be permitted to use the kodaks on the Indian Exposition grounds.
